A GOOD SUGGESTION
Oh dear Mrs. ... my piano does rattle so, I don't enjoy playing it any more. I wonder what's the matter with it? Probably the same as mine was, all dried out and entirely out of tune. Would you do it? We got Mr. Hiram, the piano tuner, and he certainly put it in fine shape and taught me how to keep it so. Yes, he has both phones, Bell 719; R. C. White, 1094.

RACINE POLICE HEAD SLATED TO SUCCEED CHAMPION AS CHIEF

INFORMATION RECEIVED BY GAZETTE INDICATES THAT HENRY C. BAKER WILL COME TO JANESVILLE.

CULLEN OUT OF CITY

Chief Champion Will Hand His Resignation to Fire and Police Commission Within Few Days.

Information received this morning by the Gazette from Racine indicates that negotiations by members of the local fire and police commission are being carried on with Chief of Police Henry C. Baker of that city.

The commission has refused to divulge any information concerning efforts to obtain a man to take the place of Peter D. Champion who quits his office as chief of the police department February 1.

A telephone conversation with a person familiar with Chief Baker's affairs disclosed the fact that Mr. Baker was in Milwaukee. Francis Grant, president of the commission, was a Milwaukee visitor yesterday and on his return would not say whether he had been in touch with Mr. Baker or not. J. P. Cullen, secretary, is in Milwaukee today. Information from Racine says Baker has been in Milwaukee for two days.

Chief Champion with whom the Gazette talked this morning admitted that Chief Baker contemplated coming to Janesville but could not give the time of his departure from Racine. Mr. Baker is one of the best known chiefs in the middle west. He was head of the Madison police department for a number of years before going to Racine and is a man of wide experience in police work. He is a strict disciplinarian and a man who works with his fellow officers at all times.

Chief Champion has not as yet decided what he will do. He will undoubtedly hand his resignation to the fire and police commission within a few days. The chief has been told that he is wanted on for some special work and it is the desire of the governing body he will remain.

Chief Champion has known Chief Baker for many years and this morning when asked regarding the selection of Mr. Baker he stated that he was sure the commission could not find a better man to fill the position.

FIVE NEW RESIDENTS HERE, CHAMBER REPORTS

The Chamber of Commerce announces five new Janesville residents since the last report. They are Mr. August Schlenker, Chicago, Ill.; Dr. R. L. MacCormack, Alma Center, Wis.; Mrs. L. E. Olsen, Milwaukee, Wis.; John B. Chapple, Ashland, Wis.

MILK PRODUCERS ELECT 1919 OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Milk Producers association held Wednesday afternoon, the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: J. J. McCann, president; Peter Gosh, vice-president; Alva Mackie, secretary; C. E. Culver, treasurer.

By motion the association unanimously agreed to sell their milk to the Milk Producers co-operative marketing company of Chicago and nearly every member at the meeting signed the agreement to that effect.

JAMES, BRING WILLIE HIS SLIPPERS; THOSE WOODEN SHOES'LL RUIN HIS FEET

There is nothing to distinguish the ex-crown prince of Germany from the country folk of the little Dutch Island of Wieringen, unless it is the fact that he does nothing but talk and loaf. These prince didn't have time to bring extra shoes. He has learned to wear wooden ones, as leather shoes are scarce in Holland. He tramps about in the wooden ones, clad in ordinary clothes and a heavy sweater and spends most of his time talking to the neighbor.

The prince has been in conversation with an old settler and out for a tramp.

INFLUENZA CLAIMS THREE VICTIMS IN DAY AT EVANSVILLE

Evansville, Wis., Jan. 23.—Influenza followed by pneumonia is again spreading here. All public gatherings are closed as a result. Three of Evansville's citizens died from the disease in the last twenty-four hours.

Henry Bixon, age 38, died this morning. He is survived by his wife, Warren Roberts, age 38, a coal and wood dealer, passed away today after an illness with pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and seven children.

Mrs. John Smith died at midnight after an illness with pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and seven children.

Tariff Protection Needed.

Testimony gathered by the United States Tariff Commission tends to the conclusion that in the production of glass for ordinary purposes American inventions, equipment and methods surpass those of all other countries, but in the higher branches of glass making the United States is the most backward of countries.

Since the breaking out of the European war there have come into existence in this country about a dozen separate branches of the glass industry for the manufacture of the following groups of articles hitherto not made commercially in the United States: Optical glass, laboratory and chemical ware, glass gauge tubing, watch crystals, oven glass, siphon bottles, photographic glass, high grade picture glass, and glass for spectacles.

The development of these products, the war disturbances of normal conditions of supply has been a most powerful factor. The destructive effect of the war upon the glass industry of Belgium and France, and the shutting off of imports from Germany and Austria, particularly optical and laboratory glassware, made immediate constructive work in the United States imperative. The grant demand furnished additional incentive and resulted in the establishment of new plants; the expansion of old plants followed changes in processes and methods for the supplying of increased demand—American Economists.

MAITLAND PALMER HELD FOR STRIKING 11 YEAR OLD GIRL

Rural Mail Carrier Pleads Not Guilty to Assault and Battery Charge; Hearing Set for Next Wednesday.

Maitland Palmer, a rural mail carrier residing at 430 Logan boulevard, was arrested this morning, charged with assault and battery. He is accused of striking Susan Fisher, eleven years old, in the face.

From the story told by both parties it appears to be a family argument. Palmer alleges that the Fisher girl snatched his son, and Charles Fisher, the girl's father, asserts that Palmer struck his daughter.

Palmer appeared in court this morning and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. His hearing was set for Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. He was released in custody of his attorney, C. D. Enslow.

RAILROAD MAN IN POOR HEALTH ENDS LIFE WITH SHOTGUN

Aged Mother Hears Shot and Finds Son's Lifeless Body in Bed-room

Firing the full charge of a 16 gauge shotgun through his throat, George Schoof, railroad man, committed suicide at 8:30 this morning at his home on the Evansville road outside the city limits near Mt. Olivet cemetery. Poor health for several years combined with an attack of influenza from which he was just recovering are thought to have been the cause of his act.

His aged mother was the only one in the house at the time of the tragedy. When she heard the shooting, she went upstairs to her son's room and found the lifeless body on the floor. Death was apparently instantaneous. Colonel Connor, Ivan Whaley and Dr. Nuzum were immediately called to the home. After investigation Mr. Whaley decided that the case was a suicide and that no inquiry would be necessary. The body was removed to the Whaley undertaking rooms.

Schoof evidently placed the muzzle of the gun directly at the base of his throat. There were large powder blotches about the wound and on his left hand. The full charge passed through his throat and lodged against his spinal column in the upper part of the base of the skull.

For many years Schoof has worked on a section gang on the Northwestern road from Janesville to Evansville. He also worked about the cemetery at different times. He was 42 years of age.

The deceased is survived by his aged father and mother, three brothers, Mrs. Clara Wehler, of the town of Harmony. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Looking Around

George Neumer, the silver-tongued orator of the Burns company, has a few open dates and will be pleased to fill engagements.

Basketball fans who became discouraged when the Cardinals lost their first game, will be real puffed because they did not attend the game last evening. The Cardinals are coming, and with the presence of Peterson should have a good year.

Several inquiries have been received at this office lately asking for the name of the firm where George McNamara of the Stupp market buys his shirts.

In the course of a few days the politicians should be gathering and making their selections. The party which has already been mentioned as mayoralty candidates.

Here is the railroad's latest alibi for trains running late. Conductor Thomas Leahy of the St. Paul road stated that with the tight skirts the ladies are now wearing he requires several minutes to load passengers at each station.

Any person desiring any information regarding the department should communicate with Attorney Charles E. Enslow, Mr. Enslow, a former member of the department, will be glad to furnish the information.

Chief Klein will retire from the fire department on February 1. After 23 years in the service, he will not be inactive, however, as he is planning to enter the electrical field.

Soldiers Without Funds Can Obtain Help at Local Y. M. C. A.

Discharged soldiers returning from various army camps who are without funds should ask information of Secretary Beaumont at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Beaumont received a letter this morning from the National War Work Council asking him to take care of discharged soldiers who found themselves without work and funds.

Outbreak of rabies in county reported.

Several outbreaks of rabies are reported from townships in the northern part of the county. The presence of one or two mad dogs has led several farmers to shoot their own animals to prevent trouble, according to reports received here. The townships in which the outbreaks have been noted are Porter, Center and Fulton.

Testimony in Straits Lumber case halted.

Further testimony in the action of J. P. Cullen vs Straits Lumber Company will probably be broken by the testimony of Commissioner M. P. Richardson on the latter part of the week. Lengthy testimony was taken Tuesday afternoon when George K. King, James J. King and Dr. E. J. Farnsworth were placed on the stand.

Two contests in "Y" billiard match.

Two contests in the Y. M. C. A. billiard tournament for senior members are scheduled to be played tonight. Karl Decker and George Cassidy will play the first match, and Francis McGee and George Sprackling will play the second match.

On account of other activities last night it was not necessary to post none last night.

Get 7 Per Cent for YOUR Money

We are selling "across the counter" direct to Milwaukee and Wisconsin people an issue of $3,600,000 of 7%, 5-year, bond-secured Gold Notes of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company. More than a million dollars' worth of the Notes have been bought in the first 30 days, mostly by Milwaukee people who know the Company and the property.

Issuance and sale of these Notes was authorized by the Wisconsin Railroad Commission to finance the growth of greater Milwaukee's electric service system.

Principal of the Notes will be repaid in cash Nov. 1, 1923.

These Notes are on sale in $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 sizes. They sell at par. Your Notes start drawing 7% interest for you from the day you buy them. You draw interest twice a year—May 1 and Nov. 1—by simply cutting off your interest coupon, taking it to the nearest bank, and getting cash for it. These Notes are readily saleable in case of need.

Milwaukee is as solidly prosperous as any city in the world. This Company supplies virtually all of Milwaukee's electric power, light, heat and transportation services. The State-appraised value of the property back of the Notes exceeds funded debt by over $16,000,000. The State rate regulation law assures a reasonable yearly return on State-appraised value. Besides being a general obligation of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company, these Notes are further secured by deposit of $4,500,000 of 40-year bonds of the Milwaukee Light, Heat & Traction Company with the First Trust Company of Milwaukee as Trustee for the Note buyers. These Companies, thus joint guarantors of these Notes, during their twenty-two years in business have never failed to pay on the due date every dollar of their obligations, with interest as agreed.

Is YOUR MONEY earning 7% with equal SAFETY? If not, we shall be glad to sell you some of these Notes.

Janesville buyers and vicinity are ASKED TO ORDER FROM THE MERCHANTS & SAVINGS BANK OR DIRECT FROM THE COMPANY. Address: SECURITIES DEPARTMENT, Public Service Building, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. You can send payment with order, or, if you wish it, we will deliver the Notes in care of your home bank, C. O. D. If your home banker advises you not to buy these Notes, and tries to sell you something else paying a lower interest rate, you can tell him the Milwaukee banks have bought hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of these Notes, for themselves and their customers.

The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company

Passed by the Capital Issues Committee as not incompatible with the National interest, but without legal validity, worth or security. (Opinion No. A-3767.)

A WOMAN'S BUSINESS

By Zoe Beckley

WHAT IS A WOMAN'S BUSINESS? "I can't understand it, Janet. It seems folly to me. Men's business is to take care of the world and women's business is to take care of the home."

The speaker was Beth Woodford, a cousin of the Temples, and though she was a more or less acquaintance of the Temples, she was not a friend. She intended her caustic remarks as a friendly, though somewhat unkind, reminder that women were invariably designed for some one's "good." But they always left her victim flustered, discouraged or angry, according to her disposition.

"You might as well say," said Janet, holding her resentment in each that men's work is hunting and fishing and fighting. It used to be. But civilization has given men other things to do. Things that used to be done by women. Why should women not reach out after new things to do?"

"Oh, that kind of talk always bores me," said Beth. "Here you are, toiling as David Temple's secretary, coming home tired at night, never having time to enjoy your home, not taking time to think of anything that used to be done by women. Why should women not reach out after new things to do?"

"You could keep a very nice little home on twenty-five hundred," replied Beth. "If you had a husband who practiced what he preached, that is, if he were a man, you could have more than twice that to live upon."

"You could keep a very nice little home on twenty-five hundred," replied Beth. "If you had a husband who practiced what he preached, that is, if he were a man, you could have more than twice that to live upon."

"Yes—and how the wife has to work in order to keep down expenses! Talk about being tired—there's nothing like that!"

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

By Elizabeth Thompson

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a woman fifty-five years old and am married to a man seven years older than myself. My husband has been one place for years and then when things boomed during the war, he changed for a better position.

Last week he told me that the young man who had his position before the war had returned and he would have to find work somewhere else. He has been trying to get something, but he is having difficulty.

It is the most difficult thing in the world for a woman to earn money at home unless she resorts to the usual methods of doing laundry work or sewing. If you are skilled with the needle I would advise you to solicit sewing from your friends. At this season of the year people are beginning to think of remodeling last year's wardrobe as well as replenishing it.

You might also conduct a kindergarten in the afternoon. Mothers who want to be relieved of their children for a few hours could leave them with you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I had been going with a fellow for almost a year before he went to France. He asked me to be engaged to him and I did not think much about it at the time. I have heard things about him since he has been in France, which make me feel like breaking the engagement.

Break the engagement? It is not the soldier's character to find fault. It is not well, however, to take the criticism of one person without investigating the veracity of the report.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going with a fellow who loves me dearly and is very nice, but there is one thing I have against him. He wants a kiss every time he takes me home. I have told him he could not have any. He does not get angry, but always teases me for a kiss. Please advise me what to do.

A Guide to GOOD MANNERS

By Janice

Remember when introducing that younger woman is presented to an older one and a man is much older than the woman or holds some high position, the woman may then be presented to him.

The simplest method is always the best, and thus when presenting a woman to a man, one says, "Miss Chase, may I present Mr. Butler?"

Never lead a young woman about a room full of people introducing her to as many as possible. Never lead a woman to a man for presentation; the man is always taken to the woman unless the man holds a very high position and the woman is very much younger.

pan and heap a portion at the side of each chop.

Cayenne Potatoes—Take smallest of small potatoes and cut into very thin slices. If you use larger potatoes cut into very thin slices and then into small rounds with a sharp knife or paring knife. Fry for a minute in a deep basket, immersing in smoking hot fat. Remove when the lightest yellowed potatoes. Place on a pie casserole or low baking dish, and cover with a liberal quantity of moist American cheese passed through potato ricer. Sprinkle with cayenne—not looking, but far from it—and when everything is sizzling, send to the table.

Letting Salad—Discard the coarse outer leaves, pick each leaf from the stalk and wash separately in water. Place washed leaves in wire basket or netting and shake. Chill. Slice a small onion with it and serve with French dressing.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am eighteen years old and in love, but I don't love a sailor and since in service he wants to run with other girls.

He tells me he loves me, but I am doubtful because I have received only three letters in six months. We have known each other three years. Please tell me how I can win him, or would you let him go? There are a lot of girls who would like to go with me, but I don't care anything about them. What would you advise me to do?

Let the sailor go. To object to his going is to tell a girl you do not love him. He does not love you now or he would be more devoted.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am an unhappy wife and have no children. I would like to have one about four or five months old. Will you please tell me where I can get one?

Give your mind to the different hospitals and they will find a baby for you of about the age you wish.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Can a boy of sixteen smoke a pipe or cigars without his parents' consent, and without violating the law?

There is no law forbidding a boy of that age to smoke. The parents are supposed to govern him in such matters.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going with a fellow who loves me dearly and is very nice, but there is one thing I have against him. He wants a kiss every time he takes me home. I have told him he could not have any. He does not get angry, but always teases me for a kiss. Please advise me what to do.

Surprise Parties.

We were talking one day with a man who has come to our town from another town in which we had once lived, about some of the people in that town.

Of several people of whom we spoke he said, "Yes, I knew him or her" and then invariably added, "but I don't really know him," or "I know her very slightly."

I liked that.

It is so surprising from the way many people do, especially when the names mentioned are those of people of any business or social prominence.

An Unhappy Surprise Party.

It was a surprise party which the man's care not to claim more intimacy than he actually possessed, because of an amusing little incident along this line which recently came to my attention.

A young business man told it to me. It concerned a family which had recently come to live in his neighborhood and with which he was on friendly terms. He said, "I know Mr. G. very well," he said, "He came from the same town I did." Mr. G. is the vice president of the road on which Mr. J. works.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

By Edith Moriarty

Every new day brings to light the activities of woman in some new and unexpected field. The most recent discovery is that she is not only a mere girl as far as years are concerned.

She is Miss Mary Frances Martin, 22-year-old, who is a very expert and feeble-minded. The young woman who, it is claimed, certainly may qualify as the country's youngest brain expert, studied under Dr. Louis N. Terman, who standardized intelligence tests. Then she attended Columbia for two years more.

At present she is employed by New York City as an alienist in the school for defectives at Randall Island.

Dr. F. Vavasour, with whom Miss Martin is associated, believes that her phenomenal rise was due to the unusual advantages of study she enjoyed, especially under Dr. Terman.

Miss Martin was "discovered" when she had to testify to a recent supreme court case involving a woman lawyer who was conducting the case against her old ally could not prove that the young Californian girl was an expert psychologist.

Miss Martin testified that she had examined 400 mentally deficient people since her appointment last year.

At the same time, she has been a great man. Cincinnati. Had a status. That was excellent in Rome. At commanding. His high standing. For he brought the bacon home. Then disarming. Back to farming. Went this hero in the spring. He, by thunder. Was a wonder. He was good at anything. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Well, after Billy Bunny and Uncle Lucky had left the Lollypop Orchard, which I told you about in the story before this, they went on and on by and by and they had a very good time. They came so quickly that the two little rabbits didn't have time to stop the Luckybottle, and oh, dear me, they ran right into a bumblebee's nest and they had a very good time. HEALTH TALKS

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

COMPLICATIONS AND FATALITY OF INFLUENZA

Influenza intelligently treated is not a serious disease. It terminates in recovery after about three days of fever, as a rule.

The complications of the disease are serious, particularly pneumonia. What do I mean by intelligent treatment?

I mean, first, rest in bed. Right here is where the patient or victim of this disease often makes his first mistake. He remains up and about, trying to "fight it off." And mayhap Mrs. Gump encourages him by telling yarns about similar cases with sad endings in bed. Women, as a rule, display more sense than men about going to bed with such an illness, although women can and do generally endure much more suffering than men do without complaint. At rest in bed the patient is conserving energy to fight the infection; he is not exhausting his strength by overexerting work to do, destroying an eliminating the poisons of the disease.

Second, fresh air throughout the illness. That means, of course, cool or cold air if it is available, and never warmed-up air. Some antiquated ideas still prevail that a patient should be kept in a room with no windows open, and that the patient should be kept in a room with no windows open, and that the patient should be kept in a room with no windows open.

Third, a hot mustard foot bath administered to the patient in bed. This is a hot mustard foot bath administered to the patient in bed.

Will you kindly name a competent eye specialist for me and one whose fees are reasonable? E. S.

ANSWER—I am always glad to name competent physicians or specialists, but cannot undertake to recommend a doctor's fees—that is a question to put to the doctor himself. The name of two good specialists in your city have been named to you.

Two weeks ago, my 13-month old baby swallowed a safety pin. He choked badly and fought me so that I could not prevent him from swallowing it. I called the doctor but he could do nothing. Any advice you can give will be appreciated. The chances are that the pin has been passed from the bowels, but such things usually come away a day or two after they are swallowed. If the pin was open it is serious; if closed, it is not. An X-ray would tell whether it is still in the body.

TIPPECANOE

Being a True Chronicle of Certain Events Between DAVID LARRENCE and ANTOINETTE O'BANNON of the Battle of Tippecanoe in the Indiana Wilderness and of What Befell Thereafter in Old Corydon and now first set forth By SAMUEL McCOY

CHAPTER III.

Views.

Driving forward with her scattered redettes the vestiges of winter, spring began to intrude the main body of her army. The lilacs became delicious spreaders of fragrance, the japonica unfolded its exquisite single flower. Violets hallowed the dead grasses of winter. Then the dogwood trees hung out their snow-white blossoms like huge white butterflies. Against the drifting cloud and up into the warm air flamed the daring color of the red maple of the swamps.

The seventeenth of the month—Toinette O'Bannon met with a puzzling experience that afternoon. She was working in the garden behind her cabin, so that it might not lack for its wealth of bloom that spring. The tears gathered in her eyes as she bent over the task. She was thinking of the garden in New Orleans, whose first cold blooms had been gathered to be laid beside the still, white face that had grown cold at her birth. Now she herself was a woman and had found, with her father, a new home in the northern wilds.

She gathered some sprays of purple hyacinths that a late frost had withered on their stalks. These she twisted into a dejected posy and tossed down the lane, mourning even for them. Then she stooped and began to dig idly about the roots of some love-in-the-mist. Suddenly she was roused from her day-dream by the sound of footsteps passing on the side street

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substance for colic, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Become Slender

A Simple, Guaranteed Method

If you would like to lose, weekly, from one to five pounds of burdensome fat while eating and drinking all you need, also enjoy life far better than at present, just follow this advice:

Take seven deep breaths of fresh air each morning and evening; after each meal take a little oil of kerosene; eat all you want, but chew thoroughly, and follow other simple directions of the guaranteed Kerosene system.

Men and women who were waddling around with heavy, sluggish bodies have, in many cases, reported a gradual, agreeable reduction of thirty to eighty pounds, with wonderful benefits to health and figure. This very reason is the time to become slender, attractive, vigorous and beautiful, very easily. Get oil of kerosene at the druggist's; it comes in capsules, convenient to use and is now sold at before-war low price. Weigh and measure yourself weekly to check. You can scarcely realize the joy that awaits you in normal, symmetrical figure, with good health and longer life. Show others this advertisement.

DID HE HAVE GASTRITIS OR CONSUMPTION?

Doctors didn't know. Anyway, Mr. Baker is well now. Feels like he did at sixteen.

"One year ago in September I was taken down; couldn't eat, sleep or work. The doctors didn't know exactly what was the matter. Some said I had catarrhal gastritis, some said consumption, and others, cancer. Anyway, I was given up to die."

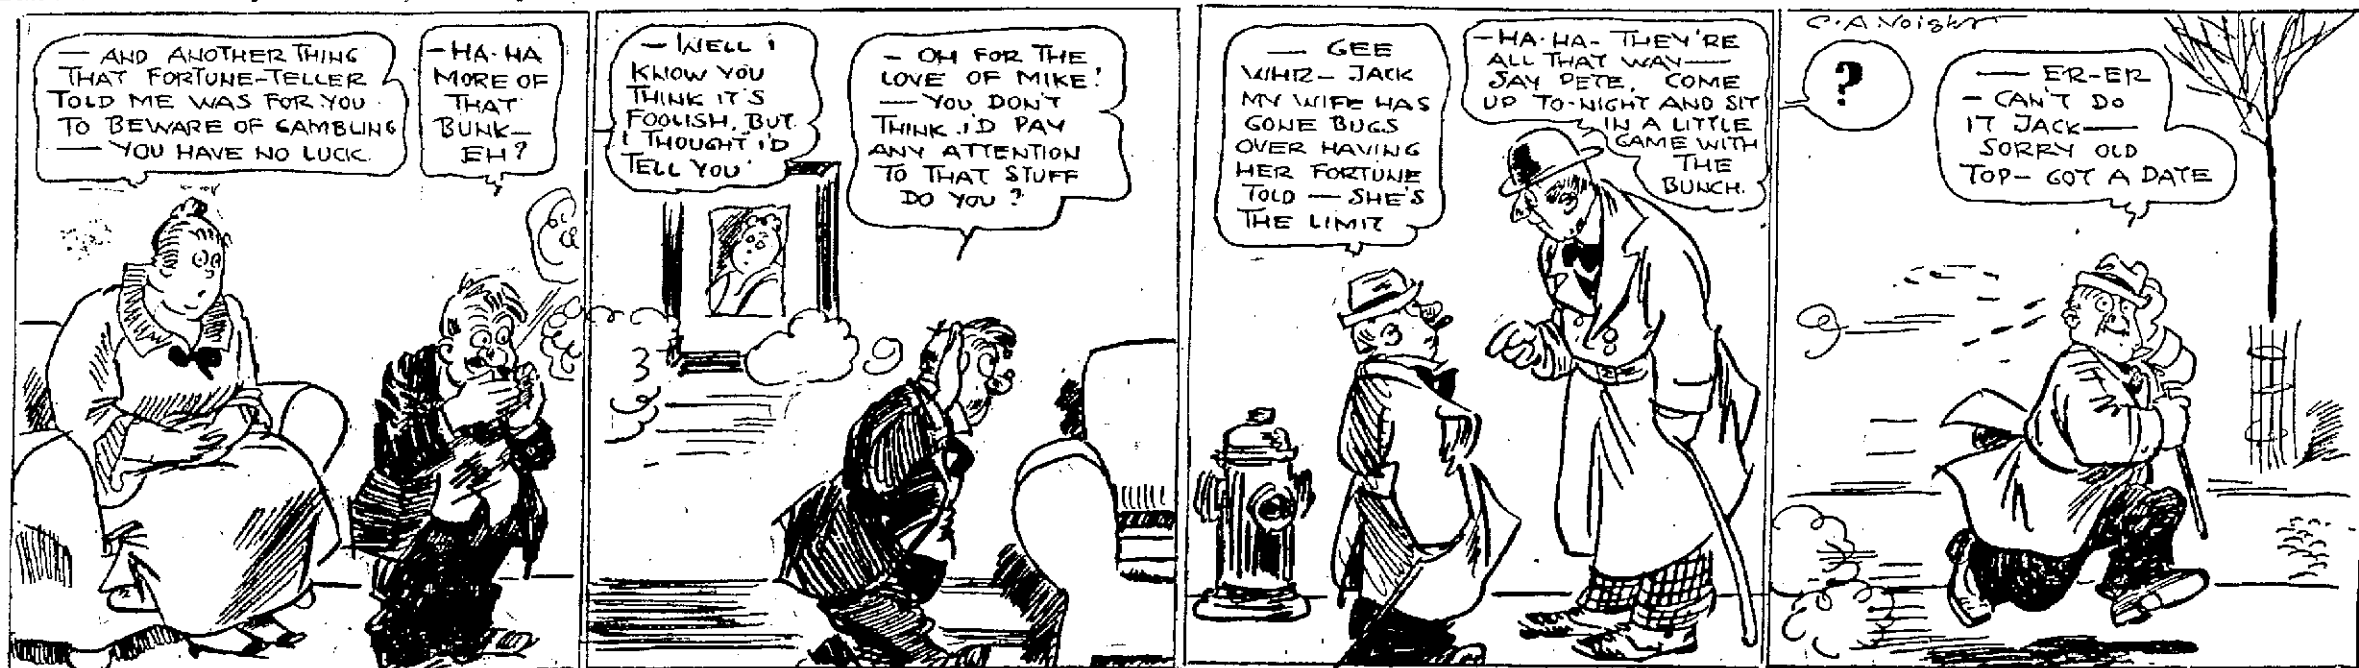

A friend persuaded me to try Milks Emulsion. In 2 or 3 weeks, the soreness went out of my lungs, the aching pains vanished from between my shoulders, and I began to eat again, sleep, and work a little. Also the miserable long-suffering feeling began to tear loose, and that heavy weight in the side, and the stomach, that hung like a huge iron ball, disappeared.

"By the time I had taken 21 bottles I could eat anything, sleep like an infant, and the old time vim and nerve had come back. I feel like I did when I was sixteen."—Lyman Baker, Star Route, Berryville, Ark.

The old rule is, get the stomach and bowels working right, and most ailments start to leave. Strength comes back, flesh is regained, and the whole system begins to right itself. Milks Emulsion is guaranteed, so it costs nothing to try. Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, drives away with all need of pills and physics, it promotes appetite and quickens the digestive organs in steps to assimilate food. A building of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down, nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It works like magic on coughs and colds.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee: Take six bottles honestly with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 50c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by F. F. Baker.

PETEY DINK—It May Be a Bunk, But Why Buck the Jinx?

that passed the garden. And then she heard an ejaculation like the moan of a beast caught in a trap, and a heavier voice speaking. Too startled to move, she listened behind the screening bushes.

"What ails you, man?"

"The mark! The mark!"

"What foolishness now? What mark?"

"There! The purple posy! Oh, my God!" The speaker seemed to choke.

The other laughed contemptuously. "Nonsense, man, those be but flowers someone has dropped. They mean naught."

"You cannot know," said the other convulsively. "If you but knew the oath—"

"A fiddlestick for the oath," the gruff voice blurted. "Throw the thing away. I tell you, and forget it. Hast it with you?"

There was a pause, and then the commanding voice resumed:

"Throw it away, man. It was naught but a mummy."

The girl heard their steps pass on down the street. Rising quickly, she stared at their retreating backs. The one was a tall youth, whom she recognized as young Doctor Elliott; the other a broad-shouldered, portly figure, a stranger to her. As she turned back her eye caught sight of a crumpled bit of paper lying on the path outside the garden and with girlish excitement she hastily ran out and picked it up. Dirty and greasy it was, as if with long handling, and on it, written in a straggling hand and uncouth spelling, were the words:

I, Edward Scull, of my own free will and Accord do declare, and solemnly swear that I will never reveal to any person or Persons any thing that may lead to the discovery of the same either in or by word sign or action may lead to any Discovery under the Penalty of being sent out of this World by the first Brother that May Meet me after the people mark further more I do swear that I will punish by death any traitor or traitress should there any arise up amongst us I will pursue with unrelenting vengeance, should he fly to the verge of Statute, I will be just true sober and faithful in all my dealings with all my Brothers. So help God to keep this my Oath Inviolated Amen."

What had Doctor Elliott to do with "Edward Scull"? She puzzled over the riddle and tried to dismiss it with a laugh. But as she returned to the smiling garden it seemed to her that a cloud, no bigger perhaps than a man's hand but still a cloud, came over the place.

When Elliott, having ridden in from Louisville on his mare, called on Toinette later in the afternoon, they strolled, at his suggestion, along the river path. She had not known him long; but on each of his weekly visits to Corydon he had disclosed in every look and word a growing passion for her.

The girl, walking in a reverie that drew a veil of tenderness over the deep supphire of her eyes, and the April day, fading out in a dream of amethystine blue and a dazzling glory of gold, seemed part of each other. By her side walked the tall young doctor; and he, too, was part, surely, of the beautiful fellowship of the happy world.

He speaks: "Toinette, here are violets. Blue as your eyes, Toinette!"

She does not answer; the words are only a part of the day, they need no answer.

"Toinette, you must marry me!"

"What?" She heard now. But she could not believe what she had heard.

"You do not know what you are saying," she laughed.

But he paid no heed to her. "Toinette, there is no one in the world, there will never be anyone—"

"Oh, please don't go on! I shall never marry. I do not believe I was meant for marriage. Aren't some girls born to be spinsters?"

"No, no! Not you!"

"Yes, I shall be an old maid. There is no one in the world that I shall ever marry. I shall be happy with my father all my life—and have only good friends, faithful friends," she added in a whisper so low that it seemed a thought, not speech.

"Your father is young no longer. He must wish you to marry—he will be happier if you do. You must not sacrifice yourself to him—it is unjust."

"While he lives I shall not leave him; and oh, do not make me think that there will ever come a time when—"

"Forgive me; I am sorry. But can't you marry and still be with him? Wouldn't he rather gain a son? Oh, Toinette, if I could only tell you what I feel! You must marry me—I love you so!"

"I can never marry you."

"Why not? Is it because you love someone else?"

She was silent.

"Is it someone in your old home? Surely not—you would never have left him to come here! Besides, you were too young. Tell me—is it any man in Corydon? Answer, Toinette! Is it—"

Toinette, is it this newcomer, this fellow Lawrence?"

She did not answer.

"Lawrence of no one! Well, he's out of my way. You'll see little of him now—oh, I know. I've heard of you both! He's happy enough elsewhere."

"Stop! Don't speak of Mr. Lawrence!"

"You think I don't know? I've never met him, but news travels far. I tell you! There's a pretty English girl that he spends his time with now!"

"I am not concerned in Mr. Lawrence's actions," she answered coldly. "Believe me or not, as you choose. The whole village knows it. But I know more—you think your heroic Mr. Lawrence is an honest American now? Bah! What is he, what is he doing here? Who knows anything about Lawrence? I tell you, he and Cranmer's daughter are a pretty pair!"

"Doctor Elliott! Take care of your words! You dare not slander Lydia!"

"Oh, she's honest enough, no doubt; but—there's bound to be war with England—and soon. Suppose you were English, wouldn't you do what you could for your country? There's our forts and this frontier that the English would like to have, remember."

"I will not listen to this! You can't mean what you are saying."

"If you are a loyal American you will listen."

"I will hear nothing more from you about Lydia and Mr. Lawrence. And now let me go. I should not have let you say what you have. Forgive me—let us both forget it."

She turned away and Elliott hastened to repair his hasty speech.

"I have said nothing of this to anyone and I have only told you, Toinette, because I love you so. I don't want you to be misled by appearances. I shall say nothing more about this—" but time will show you I am right. You are not angry with me, Toinette? I would die rather than displease you!"

The girl was evidently aroused, and only Elliott's good sense in dropping the subject saved the walk homeward from embarrassing silence. With ready tact he began to speak of other things, and before they had reached the village had succeeded in drawing a smile from his companion. He told her good night as if nothing untoward had happened.

Letters received from Frank Snyder, catcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, now in Germany with an army motor corps, indicate that he may not receive an early release and the Cardinals do not figure on him for next season, at least not at the start.

Alfred Vol Kohnitz, former major league ball player, who will be a fielder on the Cincinnati club a few years ago and who was with the White Sox when he entered the army, has received a commission as a major, so that Major Branch Rickey of the Cardinals is no longer the only baseball man to attain that rank in the army. Major Vol Kohnitz is a clever young man, and got into war work shortly after the entrance of this nation into the conflict. He held a fine position in a munitions plant near Philadelphia for some months, resigning to attend an officers' training camp, at which he won a captain's bars. He was promoted to his present rank at a southern training camp quite recently, but now that the war is over, he contemplates returning to baseball in one capacity or another next spring.

CARDS DOWN MADISON OLYMPICS, 28 TO 26, IN WHIRLWIND GAME

Phillips and Peterson Play Stellar Game—'Peewee' Benway Starred for Visitors.

In one of the fastest and most bitterly contested games seen on a local basketball floor in several years, the Yakouts Cardinals squeezed through with a two-point victory over the Madison Olympic club five at the armory last evening. The final score was 28 to 26. It was anybody's game up until the final whistle was blown. With the score standing 23 all, and five minutes to play, Murphy dropped in three straight free throws and Phillips caged a long one from the side, while Madison was able to hang up only three counters, giving the Cards the game.

Peterson Strong on Defense. Phillips and Peterson starred for the local aggregation, while 'Peewee' Benway, the man who was responsible for Madison high school's one-point victory over the local high school several years ago, was the shining light for the visitors. Phillips holding down the pivot position, held his man scoreless and succeeded in counting twice himself, besides being one of the mainstays of the defense. Although Peterson allowed his man four baskets he was strong on the defense, breaking up play after play of the Olympics and also obtaining two ringers. Hemming, holding down a forward position, was off color, failing to show up in his old-time championship form. Tilley and Murphy played fair games, the latter apparently being unable to see anything but the basket when he got possession of the ball. Benway played a great game. He was in every play, fighting like a demon, and made ten of his team's points.

Although the playing of the Cards was erratic and ragged at times, they put up a much better exhibition than they did last week when they were defeated by Camp Grant, 51 to 26. Madison's team work was marvelous.

Thoir short passes and speed in carrying the ball down the floor kept the Cards on their toes all the time. They used the floor pass successfully several times.

Playing Intense.
The game opened with both teams playing strong defensive games so that it was nearly five minutes before Murphy opened the score by dropping in a long one. Peterson followed with a counter and Tenny broke the ice for the Olympics by sneaking down the floor for an easy short shot. Hemming tipped one in from the jump under the basket and Schneider immediately counted for Madison. From that time on until the end of the half the playing was fast and intense with neither side having more than a four-point lead at any time. The half ended 13 to 13.

The second half opened with both teams fighting hard. Phillips' long shot was followed by a long one by Benway, and the ball and score seemed to break up a Cora pass. The Elgin club of Elgin, Ill., will be here next week with 'Barfoot' Adams, holding down one of the forward positions. Adams has performed on the local floor several times playing with Belvidere.

SHORT SHOTS.
Referee George Sennett allowed just enough intense playing to make the game speedy and interesting. Brunin, Madison's husky center, thought the playing a little too rough for him at times, but he was squelched by Sennett and his own team-mates. Hemming showed that he still knows how to play center by tipping in two baskets from the jump. Sensational and whirlwind playing.

"Y" ALL STARS BEAT TOBACCO CITY FIVE IN OVERTIME FRAY

Local Five Comes Back Strong In Extra Five Minute Period Counting Five Times.

After playing to a score of 12 to 12 at the end of the game, the "Y" All-Stars came back strong in the extra five minutes of play in their game against an Edgerton five at the armory last night, and counted five baskets in rapid succession copping a victory, 22 to 12. The game was featured by fast passing and close guarding.

The Tobacco City aggregation put up a strong fight for honors but were completely outclassed in the extra five minute period. There were no stars for either team every man putting up a great exhibition.

In the last half brought the crowd to its feet cheering many times.

'Peewee' Benway took a beautiful spill in the last half when he attempted to break up a Cora pass. The Elgin club of Elgin, Ill., will be here next week with 'Barfoot' Adams, holding down one of the forward positions. Adams has performed on the local floor several times playing with Belvidere.

CLAUSON ROLLS 299 AT EAST SIDE

What is said by fans to be the highest score ever bowled in the city was racked up at the East Side Alleys last night. The contest was fast and close throughout. Kueck of the Stars with 195 was high man. The scores:

BELOIT WALLOPED BY LOCAL AGGREGATION

With every man rolling consistently, the West Side Alley team slipped home with a victory over the Beloit five at the West Side alleys last night, winning by a margin of 302 pins. The game was featured by the large number of high scores. Not once did a local man hit under the 150 mark, while the Gateway City bunch had only three scores under it. Hays of the Beloit aggregation was high man with 196. The also hit 123 for low score of the evening.

MORRIS MILLER

Another famous baseball player and big league manager has gone to Europe, where he will serve as a knight of Columbus secretary. He is Tommy Dowd, who probably has sent more young fellows, who made good, up to the majors than anybody else who ever led a minor league outfit.

Dowd started his baseball career as a second baseman, but after a few years he shifted to the outfield. His last job was as a scout for the Red Sox. Since then he has been conducting a business at his home, Holyoke, Mass.

Dowd's first engagement after leaving Brown University, where he played in the infield for the varsity team, was at Boston. He was sold to Washington and later became captain and manager of the St. Louis team.

He was while leader of this club that he experienced the novelty of a manager, being traded. He went to Philadelphia with Catcher Eddie McFarland in a big trade for Hallman, Grady, Harley and Carney.

Dowd later was returned to St. Louis in a trade engineered by the late Tim Lincecum. The St. Louis club was shifted to Cleveland and he was then sent to Chicago. Connie Mack bought him from Chicago and he next served under Jimmy Collins with the Red Sox at Boston.

After leaving the big league he owned the Amsterdam-Johnstown-Gloversville club in the New York State league.

For Itching Torture

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with Zemo, which generally overcomes all skin diseases. Eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, blackheads in most cases give way to Zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear over night. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe, antiseptic liquid, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 35c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins.

Tri-County Holstein Breeder's SECOND SEMI-ANNUAL SALE

EVANSVILLE, WISC. JANUARY 29th, '19

NEAR R. R. STATION IN HEATED TENT

85 REGISTERED HOLSTEINS

This will be one of the greatest pure bred sales ever held in this part of the country. Among the consignments will be offered A. R. O. cows being in calf to a son of the famous World's Champion Funderne Pride Johanna Rue, the cow that broke five world's records in one year and has a yearly butter record of 1,473 pounds, the highest record of any cow living. Also cows soon to drop calves from the 41.61 pound bull Wandaga, a son of Wandemere Belle Hengerveld No. 193784, the 4-year-old cow that sold for $18,300 at the Worcester National Sale, the highest price ever paid for a female at public auction.

Also cows in calf to Windsor Homestead Oak De Kol, the 35.39 pound bull whose dam is the second highest record cow in the state of Wisconsin. Also a 31.82 pound cow due in March, bred to this 35 pound bull—what will a bull calf from this cow be worth as a future herd sire? She carries a Hartford Life Insurance Policy for $1,000.

A DAUGHTER OF RAG APPLE KORNDYKE 8th DUE IN FEBRUARY, BRED TO A 30 POUND BULL

Also Bulls "Bred in the Purple," whose dams have records from 20 pounds to over 30 pounds of butter in seven days. Never before in the history of Holstein Sales in Wisconsin have there been females offered carrying calves to such high record bulls. The calves these cows are carrying will be worth more at six months of age than their dams will bring at public auction. Many of these cows under proper care are capable of 30 pound records or better. This will be an exceptional opportunity to buy foundation stock. Several European buyers are now in the east buying for overseas shipment. The future looks bright for the Holstein Cow and now is the time to buy. A Hartford Live Stock Insurance Agent will be on hand to insure any if desired. Many animals sold will already carry sixty-day insurance.
